

Heart Mantra Four – “I Believe”

What if you could be anything you wanted to be?

What if your soul could speak directly to you...

Through your heartfelt dreams.

Know this, you live in a loving and magical Universe.

If you choose to be what your soul wishes you to be.

You are not here to play small, to hide your light.

Just let go of all attachments to an old life, an old self, an old identity.

It's time to let go, to let go so that you can be all that you want to be.

So that you can be all that your soul wants you to be.
