

Prayer to Beloved Aphrodite/Venus

Beloved Aphrodite, you are a bright mirror, a bright doorway into a specific set of Universal energies. You are a Divine aspect of the Absolute, of God/Goddess All That Is. Through you we begin to touch the unfathomable mystery of this Universe.

Great Goddess Aphrodite, according to ancient myth you were born from the sea, born by the fair sandy shores of Cyprus. When you stepped on the shore, flowers bloomed at your feet, following you wherever you walked on the earth.

Beloved Aphrodite, the Romans named you Venus for you are both morning and evening star, you are the brightest of stars. In the cold northern lands of the Norse peoples, you were named Freya. In the hot southern lands of Egypt you were named Bast.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, Goddess of beauty, love, romance, delight, sensuality, and pleasure. Your lightest caress turns the heart, mind and body towards love. The divine sound of your voice is sweet as honey, and when you speak, all who are open to your embrace of love and beauty listen.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, your sweet voice guides all that dare the adventure of love and beauty, your sweet voice guides all those that dare the darkness beyond their comfort zone. To know you is to know that love's reward is worth any risk.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, your power is that of intense attraction, the magnetism of love, the allure of beauty, the magnetic dance of the masculine and feminine. Your light is both love and beauty, woven together as one in the core of those you caress. You turn the heart and mind away from sexual vice to sexual virtue.

Golden Aphrodite, Golden Venus, most ancient of the Gods and Goddesses, your beauty is beyond compare. What you give, you offer freely. You are the attractor of a golden flow of good fortune and prosperity.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, Friday is your sacred day, the first hour after sunrise is your most sacred hour. All rituals devoted to you are full of laughter, fun and sensual pleasures.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, you are the ruler of all sweet things, blue and green are your colours, the bright metal copper delights you, blue and green stones with copper compounds such as turquoise and malachite are yours. In your sacred temple there are flowing fountains filled with precious pearls. Around your fountains lie many precious gems especially emerald which you most love. Lilies and roses hang from pillars of white marble. Your temple is filled with the sweet scents of African violet, cherry, honeysuckle, and sandalwood.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, water is your chosen element of love and healing. Your power is that of pleasure at the end of the day. For your direction is the west, the place of sunset.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, grace, and beauty surround you, at your touch roses in the higher dimensions bloom, with the sweetest of scent. Teach me to navigate the ways of love so that I do not seek to grasp love with reckless hands. I ask your blessing. I call to you now, hear my prayer.

Beloved Aphrodite, beloved Venus, you command many angels, your light is that of victory, overcoming the darkness of loneliness and emptiness. Yours is the feminine force of life, yours is the pull of instinctual energy. You grant those who adore you great gifts.
